

Authorization to Journey a New Path

I deserve to live my life!

I am the only person who can create the life I want.

There is no one else that can save me from my life.

(That's my reality)

My life is what I make of it. The starting point for changing my life is the vision I have in my mind.

I hereby commit to the journey that I have set before me. I will not allow the inevitable setbacks that I will encounter to deter me from the path that I have before me.
